

June 15 – 21, 2016

West Point, New York

The Department of Defense (DoD) Warrior Games is an adaptive sports competition that showcases the resilient spirit of today's wounded, ill and injured service members and veterans from all branches of the military. The DoD Warrior Games highlight the importance of adaptive sports and reconditioning activities in the recovery of all wounded warriors and give athletes an opportunity to prove that life can continue after becoming wounded, ill or injured.

The 2016 DoD Warrior Games will be hosted by the U.S. Army from June 15-21 at the United States Military Academy (USMA), West Point, N.Y. Approximately 250 athletes representing the Army, Marine Corps, Navy/Coast Guard, Air Force, Special Operations Command and the United Kingdom Armed Forces will compete for gold, silver and bronze in each of eight sports: archery, cycling, field, sitting volleyball, shooting, swimming, track and wheelchair basketball.

The DoD Warrior Games is the pinnacle event of the adaptive sports and reconditioning activities for recovering wounded, ill and injured service members and veterans across the country. Adaptive sports and reconditioning activities help enable healing of wounded, ill and injured service members and veterans through a holistic approach throughout their recovery and reintegration process: mentally, emotionally, spiritually, physically and socially.

enhances the recovery of individual service members, regardless of whether they ultimately qualify for the DoD Warrior Games.

Adaptive sports and reconditioning activities are linked to a variety of benefits for wounded, ill and injured service members and veterans across the military, including:

- Reduced stress
- Reduced dependency on pain medication
- Fewer secondary conditions, such as hypertension and diabetes
- Higher achievement in education and employment
- Increased mobility
- Increased independence

Each military service's adaptive sports program conducts camps, clinics and trials to determine their team for the DoD Warrior Games. Competitors have a variety of injuries and illnesses, including but not limited to: upper-body, lower-body and spinal cord injuries; amputations; serious illnesses; traumatic brain injuries (TBI); visual impairment and post-traumatic stress disorder. All adaptive sports training and participation
